OUTSTANDING WORCESTER HIGH SCHOOL HONOURED AT SHINE A LIGHT AWARDS FOR ITS COMMITMENT TO DEVELOPING CHILDREN'S COMMUNICATION

Hanley Castle High School in Worcester has been highly commended in the Secondary School of the Year Award category at an awards ceremony in London for its continued commitment to developing its pupils' communication skills. The 2017 Shine a Light Awards, run by Pearson in partnership with The Communication Trust, took place on 23rd March 2017 and were hosted by singer and theatre star Gareth Gates.

The 2017 Shine a Light Awards is a national awards scheme that celebrates innovative work and excellent practice in supporting children and young people's communication development.

Hanley Castle believes speech, language and communication development is extremely important. They have outlined this as part of the schools special educational needs (SEN) development plan which has resulted in increased collaboration with the local NHS Speech and Language Therapy team to inform and develop provision at a whole school level.

Since then the schools speech, language and communication provision has been transformed from being almost non-existent to being a positive role model for other secondary schools in the area. They actively use the Speech, Language and Communication Framework (SLCF) with each department having an identified SEN Champion.

The schools SENCo also meets a speech and language therapists every term to discuss identified children as well as other pupils of concern where advice is given and a joint decision made on whether to refer to a speech and language therapist. Each classroom also has a toolkit to support understanding, task management, vocabulary and oral/written narratives.

Julia Wright, Special Educational Needs Coordinator at Hanley Castle High School, said: "It was a real privilege to be invited to the 2017 Shine a Light Awards and I am delighted that Hanley Castle High School reached the finals and has been 'highly commended' for our continued commitment in developing our speech, language and communication provision.

"The award highlights the dedication of all the staff involved in supporting speech, language and communication needs (SLCN) provision at Hanley Castle High School and the continued positive impact that this is having on our students. I am also extremely grateful for the continued outstanding support that we receive from Worcestershire Children's Speech & Language Therapy Services who work alongside us collaboratively to ensure that our SCLN provision continues to develop and that our students are best supported."

Gareth Gates, host of the 2017 Shine a Light Awards, said: “The dedication of Hanley Castle High School is outstanding. Being able to communicate with confidence is often taken for granted but for many it is an everyday struggle. I have found my stutter crippling at times but I have learnt ways to manage my difficulties with the support of others.

“It is heart-warming to know that other children and young people across England are getting the support they need to develop and achieve goals that may not have been possible otherwise. Hanley Castle High School should be extremely proud of its award.”

Staff are also invested in heavily with learning support assistants receiving training and advice on how best to use the resources available in the classroom. Interventions are then delivered by the trained learning support assistants to support identified students in developing a range of skills, including narrative support (daily), Word Aware (four times weekly), LEGO Therapy Social Skills Intervention (three times weekly), TALKABOUT for Teenagers (twice weekly) and Language for Thinking (once weekly).

Chris Hall, Director of Clinical Assessment at Pearson, said: “Congratulations to Hanley Castle High School for its highly commended achievement. Its understanding of SLCN together with its structured and coordinated approach shows a school that is leading by example.

“This is the fifth year we have run the Awards and we remain blown away by the standard of applications. They give an amazing insight into the unsung work that is taking place across the country to improve the speech, language and communication skills of children and young people.”

Octavia Holland, Director of The Communication Trust, said: “Congratulations to Hanley Castle High School and everyone who triumphed at the Shine a Light Awards. They have shown what can be achieved when expertise, enthusiasm and dedication is given to children and young people who struggle to communicate. These Awards highlight the very best practice that is taking place in settings across the country. We would like to say a huge thank you to Pearson for their long-standing support.”
