OUTSTANDING ALTRINCHAM NURSERY HONOURED AT SHINE A LIGHT AWARDS FOR ITS COMMITMENT TO DEVELOPING CHILDREN’S COMMUNICATION

Juice Nursery in Altrincham, Cheshire, has been highly commended in the Early Years Setting of the Year Awards category at an awards ceremony in London for its continued commitment to developing children’s communication skills. The 2018 Shine a Light Awards, run by learning company Pearson in partnership with The Communication Trust, took place on 22nd March 2018 and were hosted by stand-up comedian, actor and TV writer, Adam Hess.

The 2018 Shine a Light Awards is a national awards scheme that celebrates innovative work and excellent practice in supporting children and young people’s communication development. There were 10 awards in total, with winners and highly-commended finalists chosen by a panel of experts in the sector.

Juice Nursery prides itself on working in partnership with parents and carers to develop significant relationships that benefit their children’s communication. As part of this effort, the nursery organises activities such as frequent ‘Stay and Play’ sessions, phonics workshops and family fun days.

From its initial entry assessments and beyond, Juice Nursery takes a person-centred approach to Early Years education, guided by the interests of its children and their voices. The nursery also participates in a range of communication initiatives, including I CAN’s Chatterbox Challenge and Nursery Rhyme Week, with its staff working closely with external agencies to identify and monitor the speech and language needs of children in their care.

In addition to this, staff at the nursery undertake regular training on speech, language and communication, and are supported to take part in continued professional development, such as childcare degrees. The nursery achieved accreditation from children’s charity I CAN last August and is trained in using Signalong.

Danielle Norwood, SENCO at Juice Nursery, said: “We are thrilled and truly honoured to have been highly commended at the 2018 Shine a Light Awards. Encouraging the development of children’s speech, language and communication skills is fundamental to their learning and overall wellbeing, and is forefront in all that we do at Juice Nursery. This commendation goes a long way in recognising our team’s hard work and commitment. Working alongside parents, we strive to provide each individual child with the very best start in life, supporting them to become confident and happy individuals, ready to take on the world!”

Stand-up comedian and actor, Adam Hess, host of the 2018 Shine a Light Awards, said: “The dedication of Juice Nursery is outstanding. As a child, I struggled greatly with dyslexia and an immense fear of public speaking, if it wasn’t for the support I received when I was younger I wouldn’t be in the position I am today. It is fantastic to know that other children and young people are being given the support they need to learn, thrive and make friends. Juice Nursery should be very proud of its success.”

Sharon Hague, Senior Vice President, Schools, Pearson, said: “Our warmest congratulations to Juice Nursery for their success. Through our innovative clinical assessments, Pearson is committed to supporting those working to help people overcome challenges in speech and language. For six years we have run these awards as we believe it is so important to recognise and celebrate the incredible, but often unsung, work being done across the country to change the lives of children and young people by helping them to develop their communications skills.”

Octavia Holland, Director of The Communication Trust, said: “Congratulations to Juice Nursery and everyone who triumphed at the 2018 Shine a Light awards. They have shown what can be achieved when expertise, enthusiasm and dedication is given to children and young people who struggle to communicate. These Awards highlight the very best practice that is taking place in settings across the country.”

The Shine a Light Awards have grown in popularity since their launch during the National Year of Communication in 2011 (known as the Hello campaign). To date, the awards have celebrated the work of over 120 teams and a wide range of individuals, including young people with severe and complex speech, language and communication needs (SLCN).
